Tug Which Was Rammed Barely Escaped Sinking.

Newport, R. I., May 3.—The government tug Mins was rammed yesterday by the submarine torpedo boat Porpoise during the maneuvers in Coddington Cove, and the tug was forced to run full speed for the shore to escape sinking.

The submarine Porpoise, Lieutenant Knorr, and Shark, Lieutenant Sharp, were making a number of tests in the cove, five miles above the city, in Narragansett bay, with the Mins acting as escort.

The Porpoise, in coming to the surface at a good speed, struck the Mins below the waterline, and stove a small hole a few feet from the bow. The forward compartment filled with water, but Chief Boatswain Sullivan, who was commanding the tug, swung her round and grounded her on the sandy beach.

TRIAL SATISFACTORY.

Cruiser Charleston Beat the First Test Yesterday.

Rockland, Me., May 3.—The cruiser Charleston was given a second speed trial yesterday with her propellers of government design, over the Orel's Head course, and the members of the naval trial board expressed themselves as satisfied with the results attained. In the eighteen runs over the course the Charleston reached a maximum speed in one hour of 21.84 knots an hour, compared with a maximum of 21.50 knots at the first test of the new propellers. The cruiser had 115 tons greater displacement than at the time of her builders' trial with the original propellers, when the contract speed of twenty-two knots an hour was just exceeded, yet the revolutions yesterday for the fast mile were the same as on the last mile of the builders' trial.

SHAPELINESS

The shape-retaining qualities of the Dorothy Dodd Shoe are one of its strong features. Of course it will wear out in time—all shoes do—but it ages imperceptibly without wearing into shapeless shabbiness. In fact its shapeliness will cling to it through all the wear that it is subjected to and still dignify it when old age claims it.

IF YOU BUY HERE YOU'RE SAFE

It's a great idea — when a merchant asks ten dollars for a suit — the buyer offers six and the merchant "takes him up." The question is, what does "he" get? If the "he" means the merchant, HE gets the man's six dollars and his suspicion for evermore. If the "he" is the man, he gets left. If that merchant could afford to sell the garment for less than he asked, why did he not name the lowest price at once? Is that merchant reliable? Can you afford to risk his judgment? He certainly takes quite a load on his shoulders when he attempts to carry trade that way. We guarantee that you will pay here fully as much as your neighbor — and just as surely you'll pay just as little. We further guarantee your money back on demand if you find your purchase unsatisfactory when you get home. If you buy here you're safe. If you are interested in Spring Suits or Overcoats we want to show you our handsome Spring lines at $10.00, $12.00, $15.00 and $25.00. If you pay less elsewhere you'll get less value.
